

Arthur L. Maurer

June 2, 1946 - November 9, 2019

Arthur Maurer, better known as Roy, was born on June 2nd, 1946 and passed away on November 9th, 2019. He was born and raised in Penns Grove, New Jersey. He worked and eventually retired from the Chrysler corporation in Newark, Delaware. He is predeceased by his parents Frank Maurer Sr and Lulu Maurer, and his older brother Frank Maurer Jr. Roy is survived by his wife Linda, sons Arthur Jr., Scott(Daisy), Mark(Kelli), his sister Debbie(Ed), his grandson Colyn(Jessica), granddaughter Cadence, great grandson and cutest baby ever Maddox, his nephew/son/buddy Frankie, nieces, nephews, and his little buddy Buster.

The name Maurer in German translation, means mason or bricklayer. When you think back on the life of Roy Maurer, one of the things that stands out about him are his hands. He had the hands of a man who worked everyday of his life. His hands were like stone from years of hard work & helping others. Those hands were used to repair everything from cars to busted washing machines. They served to create a life for his loving wife. They served to carry his young sons, nephews & grandchildren. They served to protect & provide for loved ones each & every day. In his later years, when his hands grew tight with calluses & his body grew too tired to do the tasks he once did with ease, you'd often find him sitting in a rusty folding chair, tools strewn about, daydreaming about all of the projects he wanted to do. By all accounts Roy was tough as the nails he always had sitting in a cup nearby, but he had another side. The other side of Roy spoke softly & had a deep gentle kindness. Selfless is an understatement & his family meant everything to him. To know Roy was to be helped by Roy & he never wanted anything in return. When we speak of angels getting their wings, somehow it doesn't apply to Roy. He was already an angel on earth. In the flesh. Everyday. Under-characterized as a quiet man, he said everything he needed to say through his actions: as a loving husband, a giving father, a doting grandfather, a loyal brother, and a helpful neighbor. He built things and he fixed things. He never asked questions and didn't keep score. He simply showed up and stayed until he knew things were okay. His presence was an unspeakable comfort and he will be deeply missed by everyone his life touched.
