“ Betty,

If your loved ones could hear your voice, they'd know you'd want them to rejoice. But grief is love with nowhere to go, so your loss left many hearts with a painful hole.

It's only the physical body that's truly gone. I know that your soul still lives on. May the invisible peace, light, and boundless love that you're feeling, be shared in signs and whispers for those who need healing.

I'll always remember you for your sparkling eyes and the gift that you gave me in my youth, your daughter Ellen. Each human is born to this world with a unique personality, and "Tink" is your child who's sensitive behind tough skin, outspoken, fun, and a life-long friend. For this I am grateful.

Someday our souls will reunite in a space that's beyond magnificent.

For now, each time I call upon my angels and spirit guides, I'll be wondering who's asking you to help them in a new and magical way. For this I pray.

My sincere condolences to all who are hurting at this time.

“ Betty was the most loving woman I’ve ever known. She was like a mother to me and my family. From the time I was 4 years old to now if I ever needed anything she was there for me, even if it was her sweet smile and a hug to cheer me up. I’m a better person for having her in my life and I’ll miss her very much. My condolences to her family, which she loved very much, as I do as well. She can rest easy now in heaven with her love John. ❤️
