

Carrie E. Aldredge

September 13, 1925 - February 17, 2015

Carrie Elizabeth Aldredge September 13, 1925 - February 17, 2015 Resident of Carneys Point, New Jersey passed away surrounded by her loved ones. Carrie was born and raised in Carroll County, Virginia. She moved to New Jersey with her older brother Charlie when she was thirteen and made New Jersey home.

She was one of nine children born to the late Timothy and Margaret Spencer and was the beloved wife of the late William Aldredge. Carrie will forever be remembered by her devoted daughter Linda Gealy and son in law Bob Gealy, treasured great grandchildren Anne Steelman and James White, along with countless other family and friends whom were blessed to know her.

Carrie loved to tell stories about her adventures as well as misadventures in the mountains of Virginia. She loved more than anything to tell stories of visiting with her sister Grathie and niece Carrie Mae (her partner in crime). She was a very devoted, caring individual. Carrie always put everyone's well being in front of her own and showed an unfaltering strength throughout her life. She was an animal lover and avid collector of any cow keepsake she thought was cute. Carrie had a special love of roosters as well. Anyone that spent any time with her quickly learned of her love of cows and roosters. Carrie loved to do word search puzzles and watch reruns of Mister Ed.

Carrie touched the lives of many people with her smile and caring ways, and maintained her trademark giggle all the way to the end. Carrie is reunited with her husband and granddaughter, Shannon Steelman. She is predeceased by eight siblings; Corby Spencer, Timothy Spencer, Collin Spencer, Grathie Beasley, Myrtle Maxwell, Cora Spencer and James Spencer as well as her parents. To respect Carrie's wishes there will be no services held. She wanted to be remembered in life and full of spirit.
