“ Charlie was a really great guy. we met in high school, he was a year behind me but it never seemed that way. we seemed to always bump into each other in the hallways, and other areas of the school even had a class together, he always made my days a lighter brighter with his bubbly personality, after school years we would see each other in passing and things were still the way there were back in the 90s laughs and all! I will miss seeing you Charlie may God keep you, and may his family find the strength they need during this time of mourning
