“ Ronnie (as all of our family called him) was my big brother and has always been someone I could look up to. When I was young he would be happy to share all his spare change with me. A quarter or fifty cents was a lot in those days. Ronnie has been a giving and loving person, always caring about others. It never took too much to make Ronnie happy. He was satisfied with the simple things in life, and always looked forward to a delicious cup of morning coffee. In the last several years he was ill a lot, but I never heard him complain, as he always had a quiet dignity about him. He was also very proud of his service in the Navy, and was happy to display his love for America. He flew our country's flag on his car to share that with others. Ronnie you were truly one of a kind. Your younger brother Alan and I love you very much, and will miss you every day. We will keep you, your smile, your funny little comments, and all of your special ways in our hearts forever....til we meet again,,,,,,,,,,,,,
